

Senior .Net Developer

Based in Surbiton, SW London near Kingston-upon-Thames

Salary £35K-£45K according to experience

Full time, Permanent

Email: jobs@parabolasoft.co.uk

The company

A Microsoft Gold Partner specialising in IT solutions for mid-sized organisations, Parabola Software has gained a substantial reputation over the last 6 years as a SharePoint software specialist. Technology we currently use includes: ASP.Net including MVC, .Net Windows Forms, LINQ, JavaScript & JQuery, SharePoint, Umbraco, SQL Server, Team Foundation Server,

The Opportunity

An opportunity has now arisen for an ambitious Senior .Net Developer to join the team.

This role would suit a technically gifted individual, experienced in .Net development and keen to work on leading-edge web and desktop solutions.

This is an excellent opportunity for someone wishing work with an experienced team and a chance to build upon your existing experience as Parabola expands. You should expect to work on all aspects of the solution and the development lifecycle.

The role

You will be a member of project orientated team focused on our customers' real business needs. You will work with Project Managers, Developers, Business Analysts and Testers. Your role will include elements of the following:

- Software Design and Estimation
- Software Development
- Liaising with customers
- Research and Development

Education and Experience

To be considered for the role of Senior .Net Developer you must have:

- Computer Science, Maths, Science or Engineering university degree (or equivalent)
- Proven track record of successful .Net development projects
- An enthusiasm for utilising and understanding technology

An aptitude for researching and learning new technology is vital.

You will be based in our offices in Surbiton, SW London.

No agencies please